LOCAL LIVE STOCK

Shippers Are Now Complaining of Lack of Transportation

FROM PENNSYLVANIA COMPANY.

Which is Boosting Buffale at the Expense of Pittsburg.

OFFICE OF PITTSEURG DISPATCH, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 1889. There is of late a good deal of growling on the part of live stock shippers in the territory known as the Middle division, between Crestline and Ft. Wayne, against the railroad management of the Penusylvania Company lines. The grievances were thus put by a Liberty stockman in an interview this morning :

"I know a number of shippers through the territory west of Crestline who last week brought their stock to stations along the Pennsylvania Railroad lines, and being unable to secure transportation, were forced to take the stock home or send it on to Buffalo instead of East Liberty. These shippers had sent in their orders several days shead. On complaint being made to Mr. Clarke, of Ft. Wayne, whose business it is to look after transportation on the Middle division. he said he could not furnish the cars, and it was uncertain when he could. Up to date here has been no live stock received at East Laberty from the section referred to,"

The Cars Were There.

The gentleman who gives this information also states that he traveled on those same railroad lines within a day or two and saw empty live stock cars in the Bucyrus and Crestline yards, and any number of the same kind of cars traveling Westward bearing coke, iron, etc. Another stockman reported that he started with some live stock from Mansfield at 9 P. M. Tuesday last for East Liberty, due at Alliance at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. He arrived there about two hours behind time.

On top of this delay came another of three hours a short distance from Allegheny, where his stock was sidetracked for a Western train to be made up, when the latter should have been sided and permitted the cattle cars to go on to their destination without further detention. The result was that the live stock reached East Liberty seven hours behind the time they should have reached it. Said the gentleman quoted above:

"There is no difficulty getting stock from Chi-

There is no difficulty getting stock from Chicago or Indianapolis promptly through to East Liberty, but little attention seems to be given by Pennsylvania lines to local shipment-which I had always supposed paid the company best.
There is general complaint of late by shippers concerning detention of local stock, and particularly against the management of lines between Crestline and Fort Wayae. If the Pennsylvania Company don't want this trade stockmen would be pleased to have notice served to that effect so we can act accordingly. Buffalo that effect so we can act accordingly. Buffalo is receiving trade of late which belongs to Pittsburg, and which we would undoubtedly have if the proper facilities were furnished by the railroad system that centers here."

Week's Work at Liberty Yards.

It will be seen from report of the week's work, as given below, that the receipts and sales of cattle for the local trade were unusually large. Weighmaster Dunkeid reports that he has weighed more cattle this week than for any one week for the past five or six years. A rather strange coincidence, as shown by our report, is that the receipts of sheep this week and port, is that the receipts of sheep this week and last are identically the same.

Hogs and hog products are weakening. Receipts at Chicago to-day were 22,000 head. From the present outlook October's receipts will exceed those of last October by 100,000 to 150,000 head. It is estimated that October's receipts there will reach 600,000 head, and November go 200,000 hetter. If this is not an overestimate hogs must go still lower. The outside price at Chicago this morning was $4.30.

Following is the report of transactions at Liberty yards for the week past: RECEIPTS.

Dry Goods.

New York, October 10.—The condition of the drygoods market and trade was of a satisfactory character. Besiness with jobbers was very fair, and large orders were placed on new fabrics for next season. Stocks at the hands of both agents and jobbers are unusually low for this period, though in some directions there seems to be a fair supply. The market was unchanged and steady.

Bullish Feeling in the Wheat Pit, With Gains All Round at the Close-Corn and Onte Stronger-Perk Quiet. CHICAGO-Trading in wheat was very extensive to-day, and a decidedly bullish feeling prevalled. Yesterday's big buying by prominent local shorts started the market, and to-day's influences started a further sharp appreciation in values. A large trader solu quite freely. The view taken by some of the traders is that the short interest is accountable for the sudden turn, while others predict an era of active speculation and still higher prices. To-day's WEEK'S WORK AT THE LIBERTY YARDS movement did not have the appearance of a strained market. The opening was 142% higher than yesterday's closing, ruled a trifle for December and 1%c higher as for May than yesterday. A rumor that the Government crop report would show a further shortage of some 20,000,000 bushels no doubt was one of the principal influences which gave impetus to the advance of to-day. The liberal export clearance had a decidedly strengthening effect.

A good trade was reported in corn, and the feeling was firm and trading was at higher prices. The better tone and advance was attributed to covering by December and May shorts, as also the strongest feeling in wheat. The volume of business was quite large, especially in May, which ruled firm on good buying by a large local speculator and one or two commission houses. Offerings of the near futures were quite light at times, but there was some changing of October to May at 2%c premium for the latter month. The market onened firm at yesterday's closing prices, and under a good local december of the search of the at yesterday's closing prices, and under a good local demand advanced 1/2%c, became quiet but firm, and closed 1/2%c higher than yester-

A Former Pittsburger Gives the Good Old City a Friendly Boost.

HE IS SURPRISED AT ITS GROWTH. An Iron Broker Speaks a Word of Caution

HOW A YOUNG MAN SECURED A HOME to Busy Manufacturers.

The following communication needs no comment. It tells its own story:

PHILADELPHIA, October 9.
To the Financial Editor of the Dispatch:
As an old Pittsburger, having been born and raised there, I am glad to see, from the reports in THE DISPATCH, that the city is growing. I always thought it had a great future before it, and now I know it. When I was a boy the suburbs were either open fields or covered with timber. Now I am informed they are covered with fine houses and are thickly populated.

Years ago I was told that the city was finished and ready to be fenced in. The men who held this opinion, if they are living, have certainly changed their minds. The rapid growth of the city, as I understand it, is marvelous, and is attracting attention here and in other Eastern cities. Pittsburg real estate is talked of almost as much as stocks and bonds, and I am informed that a great deal of Philadelphia capital will be invested in it next year.

Let the good work go on. A city that builds 4,000 houses a year cannot be kept in the background. With natural gas and other advantages for manufacturing, I can see no limit to the growth of business and population. Local enterprise will expand and outside capital be drawn in until the good old town will occupy the same position in the manufacturing work that New York does in the financial. I am proud of my native place. It was a great thing to be a Roman citizen. It is a greater one to be identified in any proper way with the great city of Pittsburg. A FORMER CITIZEN.

Increased and increasing activity is the great feature of the iron trade this week. At the neeting of manufacturers in New York a few days ago structural material was advanced $6 a ton. Bessemer pig is now quoted at $21 75 to $22 50. Other brands of pig have moved up pro-portionately. Rails are firm at $32 to $33, an ad-vance of about $5 a ton within a short time.

The mills are all pushed to their utmost capacity. The only drawback is the occasional failure or shortage in the natural gas supply. With all the orders ahead that can be filled in the time specified, and others coming in for ater deliveries, it is a bad time to run short of fael, a steady supply of which should be provided somehow, even if the mills have to go back to coal.

A prominent iron broker sald yesterday: "Business could hardly be better. The mills have more than they can do. It looks very like a boom, the very thing we don't want. I am afraid the result will be that many old and abandoned plants will be rehabilitated and started up, and overproduction kill the market. This will certainly be the case if prices go much higher.

"They are now almost or quite up to the point where foreign material can be brought into competition with the home product, and such would no doubt be the case but for the very large demand on the other side of the ocean. With this danger before them manu-facturers should move slowly and carefully. Prices are high enough."

At a building association meeting in Phila-delphia, a short time ago, a young man who paid the first monthly installment of dues on his mortgage was followed in the line of depositors by another young man, who purchased a home by another young man, who purchased a home about five years ago and has it partly paid for. The latter remarked to the secretary: "That man, who has just paid his dues, saved his first dollar through my persuasion. When I bought my house," he continued, "I was obliged to bormy house," he continued with the property as it posted up there would have caused a perfect force and the previous day, advanced to 98% c. receded to 88% c. re have caused a perfect furore and sent the market sky high. without saving a penny.
"The next meeting night he called at m house and went with me to the association meeting and subscribed for stock. That was several years ago, and last month he took our of the association nearly $1,000, used it in par payment for his home, borrowed the balance from the association, and is now in his own home. I feel that I have done some good in the

If the Pennsylvania Water Company keeps its promise—and it will unless something un-foreseen occurs—the good people of Wilkins burg will have a supply of Allegheny river water by this evening. Connections have been made with about 200 houses in the borough. The reservoir will not be completed for a onth or six weeks, and water will be pumped month or six weeks, and water will be pumped directly into the pipes. Nothing definite has been done in regard to the fireplugs, as there is a hitch between the company and the borough officials. The latter, it is understood, demand a full supply of water for street sprinkling and other purposes free of cost. The company asks the usual rates. The difficulty will probably be compromised. Citizens are jubilant over the prospect of an abundance of water forthwith, and think that, as it will lessen the danger from fires, there should be a drop in insurance rates, which are as high in some localities as 2½ per cent.

ON ITS FEET AGAIN.

Electric Making Rapid Strides Toward the Par Line-Central Stronger.

There was an unusual amount of apathy dis-played by brokers at the Stock Exchange yesterday. There were some orders, but they were for cheap stuff, which is becoming scarcer every day. Electric continued its advance, with very small offerings, closing at 47% bid and $8% asked. It is on the high road to par with an 8 per cent dividend among the proba-terday arrested Chas. Saunders, alias Henry Hentzelman, who is wanted for murder in Hagerstown. He was working as a hod carrier on the Westinghouse building at Wilmerding. Last April the Chief was furnished a description of the fellow and he declared he had seen him on the street, but Saunders had skipped. He was finally traced to Wilmerding.

Saunders admitted he was the man, and that about a year ago his victim, named Harr, insulted him in a parade during the day. They met again in the evening, quarreled over it and he struck Harr with a stone, killing him. His wife and two children joined him about two months ago.

Local Bankers Report a Fair Demand for Funds-Speculation Slow.

There was a fair demand for money yester day, and rates were steady at 6@7 per cent. The exchanges were large, indicating a brisk movement in mercantile and manufacturing circles. Nearly every dollar represented in the Clearing House reports is legitimate money, speculation cutting so small a figure as to be scarcely worth mentioning. In a large sense, the same is true all over the country. The speculative interest is subordinate to more impertant affairs—to moving the crops, to build-ing mills and factories, to constructing and im-proving railroads, to buying lands and building houses and to other important concerns of

BUSINESS IMPROVING.

Stocks Rullish at the Upening, but Give Way Under a Persistent Bear Raid -An Active Close at Fractional Declines NEW YORK, October 10 .- The improvement in the condition of the money market made further progress to-day, and the restoration of passenger rates to Denver with the continued encouraging traffic returns gave the stock market a bullish tone at the opening of business. The fluctuations, bowever, are still con-trolled to a large extent by the professionals, who are at present on the short side of the ac-count, and thus the history of the day's trans-actions is chiefly comprised in the efforts of the bears to break prices by determined attacks upon a few stocks. Atchison and New Enand pressure to sell the former round little de mand and absolutely no support whatever. I runor that the reorganization plan was meet-ing with unexpected opposition was circulated but could not be confirmed. There wer-points out to sell new England before the open-ing, and it was said that a large block of the stock was to be sold. The two stocks men-tioned furnished nearly half of the total busi-ness done and they overshadowed the entir-list.

top Oil also, and reports of a serious disturbance in the trust were out, though it was believed that the selling was for the purpose of breaking the price to cover shorts upon. Sugar weakened in sympathy with Cotton Oil and Missouri Pacific in sympathy with Atchison, though the impression upon neither was of special importance. The general lists were affected to a limited extent by the weakness in the leaders, but the fluctuations as well as the business done was confined within narrow limita, and the declines established outside of the stocks mentioued and a few specialties were not worthy of mention. The strong feature of the day was the Northern Pacific group of stocks, which were advanced on what appeared like inside buying, and which was accompanied by a story that Mr. Villard had obtained the necessary proportion of the stock to carry out his scheme. Oregon Transcontinental was specially strong, and shot up 3 per cent from its lowest figure, but reacted and lost a good proportion of the improvement. The Northern Pacific's were mofe quiet in their movements.

Louis and Nashville was strong, but the tendency to advance was checked by the persistent selling of the leading shares and St. Paul sold off slightly on the decrease in the earnings for the first week in October. Manhattan was strong on the report of a decision in favor of the company and Chattanooga and San Francisco moved up. The Chesapeake and Ohio stocks and the Wisconsin Central were also conspicuous among the low-priced shares for strength. The opening was made at advances extending to % per cent, and after further slight improvement the whole market gave way and drooped throughout the forenon, while Atchison reached the lowest price since June. The spurt in the Northern Pacifics helped to rally the list in the afternoon, but the improvement was only partial and did not hold to the end. The market closed fairly active and heavy at something under the opening figures. The majority of stocks are materially lower to-night. Cotton Oil is down 2% s figures. The majority of stocks are materially lower to-night. Cotton Oil is down 2% sugar 1%. Pacific 15, and Rock Island 1 per cent, white Orezon Transcontinental is up 15, and Manhattan 1 per cent.

Railroad bonds showed a little more animation to-day, though the increased business was entirely due to the animation in the Chesapeake and Obio 5s, which turnished $140,000 out of the total day's business of $813,000. The tone of the dealings was much better than during the past few days, and the market even showed some strength in spots during the latter portion of the day. There were a few important changes, and among the advances were ter portion of the day. There were a few important changes, and among the advances were St. Paul. It is the impression of some of the very best traders in Wall street, that if the bullish speculation is temporarily confined within very respectable limits, there need be absolutely no lear on the monetary question, but if dealings are revived on anything like the extensive scale of the first part of last month the monetary spasm will return so quickly that it will make the heads of the bulls swim.

Potatoes still rule quiet, though some dealers report a better feeling. The short supply two weeks ago has brought an over-supply to markets, and some money has been dropped by speculators who figured on a scarcity. The Great Exterminator o Blood Poison.

I AM of the opinion S. S. S. should stand at the head of the list of blood remedies. I arrived at this conclusion from the testimony of cores of persons who have told me of the good results from its use. I have been selling S. S. S. for years, and it has won a large sale. C. A.
